UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
SAN FRANCISCO DIVISION

LARRY H. VIERA,
Plaintiff,

v.

G.D. LEWIS, et al.,
Defendants.

No. C 12-1497 RS (PR)

ORDER OF SERVICE;

DIRECTING DEFENDANTS TO FILE
DISPOSITIVE MOTION OR NOTICE
REGARDING SUCH MOTION;

INSTRUCTIONS TO CLERK

INTRODUCTION

This is a federal civil rights action filed pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 by a pro se state prisoner. The Court now reviews the complaint pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a).

Defendants are directed to file a dispositive motion or notice regarding such motion on or before October 24, 2012, unless an extension is granted. The Court further directs that defendants are to adhere to the new notice provisions detailed in Section 10 of the conclusion of this order.

DISCUSSION

A. Standard of Review

A federal court must conduct a preliminary screening in any case in which a prisoner seeks redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity.

No. C 12-1497 RS (PR)
ORDER OF SERVICE

1 See 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a). In its review, the court must identify any cognizable claims and 2 dismiss any claims that are frivolous, malicious, fail to state a claim upon which relief may 3 be granted or seek monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. See id.
 4 § 1915A(b)(1),(2). Pro se pleadings must be liberally construed. See Balistreri v. Pacifica
 5 Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1988).

6 A “complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim
 7 to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 1949 (2009)
 8 (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). “A claim has facial 9 plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the 10 reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Id. (quoting
 11 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556). Furthermore, a court “is not required to accept legal conclusions
 12 cast in the form of factual allegations if those conclusions cannot reasonably be drawn from 13 the facts alleged.” Clegg v. Cult Awareness Network, 18 F.3d 752, 754–55 (9th Cir. 1994).
 14 To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two essential elements:
 15 (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and 16 (2) that the alleged violation was committed by a person acting under the color of state law.
 17 See West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

18 B. Legal Claims

19 Plaintiff alleges that defendants, G.D. Lewis, Warden of Pelican Bay State Prison, and 20 Pelican Bay correctional officers G. Williams, D. Foston, C. Tileston, J.A. McKinney, 21 D. Barneburg, and S. Burris violated his constitutional rights by continuing to validate him as 22 a gang member and retaining him in segregated prison housing on the basis of that validation.
 23 His specific claims are that defendants violated his (1) First Amendment right to free
 24 association; (2) Eighth Amendment rights by housing him in “harsh conditions” owing to the 25 improper gang validation; (3) right to due process by revalidating him as a gang member 26 based on insufficient evidence and by a constitutionally inadequate revalidation process; and 27 (4) violated his rights to constitutional treatment by failing to train and supervise. Liberally
 28

1 construed, these claims are cognizable under § 1983. The Court declines to exercise
2 jurisdiction over his state law claims, which are hereby DISMISSED without prejudice.

3 CONCLUSION

4 For the foregoing reasons, the Court orders as follows:

5 1. The Clerk of the Court shall issue summons and the United States
6 Marshal shall serve, without prepayment of fees, a copy of the complaint in this matter, all
7 attachments thereto, and a copy of this order upon G.D. Lewis, G. Williams, D. Foston,
8 C. Tileston, J.A. McKinney, D. Barneburg, and S. Burris, employees of Pelican Bay State
9 Prison. The Clerk shall also mail courtesy copies of the complaint and this order to the 10 California Attorney General's Office.

11 2. No later than ninety (90) days from the date of this order, defendants shall file 12 a motion for summary judgment or other dispositive motion with respect to the claims in the 13 complaint found to be cognizable above.

14 a. If defendants elect to file a motion to dismiss on the grounds plaintiff
15 failed to exhaust his available administrative remedies as required by 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a),
16 defendants shall do so in an unenumerated Rule 12(b) motion pursuant to Wyatt v. Terhune,
17 315 F.3d 1108, 1119–20 (9th Cir. 2003), cert. denied Alameida v. Terhune, 540 U.S. 810
18 (2003).

19 b. Any motion for summary judgment shall be supported by adequate 20 factual documentation and shall conform in all respects to Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of 21 Civil Procedure. Defendants are advised that summary judgment cannot be granted, nor 22 qualified immunity found, if material facts are in dispute. If any defendant is of the opinion
23 that this case cannot be resolved by summary judgment, he shall so inform the Court prior to 24 the date the summary judgment motion is due.

25 3. Plaintiff's opposition to the dispositive motion shall be filed with the Court and 26 served on defendants no later than forty-five (45) days from the date defendants' motion is 27 filed.

1 a. In the event the defendants file an unenumerated motion to dismiss
2 under Rule 12(b), plaintiff is hereby cautioned as follows:

3 The defendants have made a motion to dismiss pursuant to Rule 12(b) of the 4 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, on the ground you have not exhausted your administrative
5 remedies. The motion will, if granted, result in the dismissal of your case. When a party you
6 are suing makes a motion to dismiss for failure to exhaust, and that motion is properly
7 supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony) and/or documents, you may not simply 8 rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, 9 depositions, answers to interrogatories, or documents, that contradict the facts shown in the 10 defendant's declarations and documents and show that you have in fact exhausted your 11 claims. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, the motion to dismiss, if 12 appropriate, may be granted and the case dismissed.

13 b. In the event defendants file a motion for summary judgment,
14 the Ninth Circuit has held that the following notice should be given to plaintiffs:

15 The defendants have made a motion for summary judgment by which they 16 seek to have your case dismissed. A motion for summary judgment under Rule 17 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case.
18 Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary
19 judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no 20 genuine issue of material fact — that is, if there is no real dispute about any 21 fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary
22 judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case.
23 When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is 24 properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot 25 simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific 26 facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated 27 documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the 28 defendants' declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted in favor of defendants, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial. See Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 963 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc). Plaintiff is advised to read Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317 (1986) (holding party opposing summary judgment must come forward with evidence showing triable issues of material fact on every essential element of his claim). Plaintiff is cautioned that failure to file an opposition to defendants' motion for summary judgment may be deemed to be a consent by plaintiff to the granting of the motion, and granting of judgment against plaintiff without a trial. See

Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53–54 (9th Cir. 1995) (per curiam); Brydges v. Lewis, 18 F.3d 651, 653 (9th Cir. 1994).

4. Defendants shall file a reply brief no later than fifteen (15) days after plaintiff's opposition is filed.

5. The motion shall be deemed submitted as of the date the reply brief is due. No hearing will be held on the motion unless the Court so orders at a later date.

6. All communications by the plaintiff with the Court must be served on defendants, or defendants' counsel once counsel has been designated, by mailing a true copy of the document to defendants or defendants' counsel.

7. Discovery may be taken in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. No further court order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(a)(2) or Local Rule 16-1 is required before the parties may conduct discovery.

8. It is plaintiff's responsibility to prosecute this case. Plaintiff must keep the court informed of any change of address and must comply with the court's orders in a timely fashion. Failure to do so may result in the dismissal of this action for failure to prosecute pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b).

9. Extensions of time must be filed no later than the deadline sought to be extended and must be accompanied by a showing of good cause.

10. A recent decision from the Ninth Circuit requires that pro se prisoner-plaintiffs be given "notice of what is required of them in order to oppose" summary judgment motions at the time of filing of the motions, rather than when the court orders service of process or otherwise before the motions are filed. Woods v. Carey, No. 09-15548, slip op. 7871, 7874 (9th Cir. July 6, 2012). Defendants shall provide the following notice to plaintiff when they file and serve any motion for summary judgment:

The defendants have made a motion for summary judgment by which they seek to have your case dismissed. A motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case.

Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact — that is, if there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case. When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the defendants' declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial.

Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 962–63 (9th Cir. 1998).

IT IS SO ORDERED.
